IEEEES-4 is the fourth of a series of symposia that focuses on theoretical and practical aspects of Exergy, Energy, and Environment (3E's) for sustainable future. The Symposium is a unique opportunity for exchanging information and presenting recent developments and research results, as well as discussing all relevant topics on 3 E's. Papers on topics such as 3 E's covering all engineering areas and other disciplines will be most welcome. Some key topics interest, but not limited to:

Energy Conservation & Analysis	Air-Conditioning Systems
Entropy & Exergy Analyses	Desalination Technologies
Exergy, Energy and Environmental Modeling	Sustainable Development
Fuels & Alternatives	Sustainable Buildings
Renewable energy	Green Buildings
New and Clean Energy Technologies	Thermodynamics Optimization
Refrigeration and Heat Pump Systems	Modeling of Energy Systems
Combustion Technology	Heat and Mass Transfer
Exergy Accounting & Analysis	Industrial Ecology
Thermal Systems and Applications	Energy management in industrial sectors

Prospective participants are invited to submit abstract(s) for IEEEES-4 (according to the format posted in the conference website http://www.aus.edu/conferences/ieees_09/index.php) All submitted papers will be peer-reviewed. IEEEES-4 accepted and presented papers will be coordinated into a unified theme as special issues of some reputable journals.

Please note that unless registration is completed by March 15, 2009, accepted papers will not appear in the proceedings and will not be considered for the Special Issues of the selected Journals.

The Organizing Committee welcomes proposals for special sessions and tutorials to be held in conjunction with IEEEES-4. Please send your proposal by email to mgadalla@aus.edu by October 15, 2008.

The Symposium venue will be in the campus of the American University of Sharjah located about 15 miles from Dubai International Airport.

Exciting social events, safari tours, and sight seeing program will be organized.
