Welcome to the 2019 AUS Careers Forum and Career Fair.

AUS is committed to educating students for a future in which the very nature of employment may be redefined. The university offers a range of undergraduate and graduate degree programs, ranging from those that are professionally oriented to others that are firmly grounded in the methods that are fundamental to the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. Regardless of their major, AUS students benefit from a liberal arts core that encourages intellectual discovery, promotes an appreciation of the various modes of human enquiry, and fosters the development of the knowledge and skills necessary to succeed in and contribute to their local communities and the broader world.

Each year the AUS Careers Forum, which is held in conjunction with the Career Fair, provides opportunities for students and alumni to interact directly with business leaders and professionals. A strong relationship with employers is essential for the success of the university, and AUS is grateful for the support of the companies and organizations that participate in recruitment activities on campus.

We hope that the AUS Careers Forum and Career Fair are beneficial for everyone participating this year.

Professor Kevin Mitchell
Acting Chancellor
American University of Sharjah
Foreword by AUS Executive Director of Advancement and Alumni Affairs

I would like to welcome you to the 2019 AUS Careers Forum. This year, our theme is “Youth Employment: A Key to Future Development”. A timely subject given the effects of technology on future jobs and careers is increasingly becoming today’s reality for millions of graduates and companies around the world. The technological world and the effects on workplace processes is changing so rapidly, it is challenging what it means to be human. Yet, without doubt, people are still at the heart of all organizational transformations generated by this phenomenon.

I urge our students to make full use of the many companies present at this year’s Careers Forum as the invited executives share their insights on the journey to a successful career, and provide an invaluable opportunity to explore career paths and learn about employment opportunities in a wide range of industries.

On behalf of the University, I would like to thank all the participating companies in this year’s Forum for their support and the opportunities that they are providing for our students. They are helping to unlock and hone the special qualities and promise of our students, as they embark on a future full of possibilities and challenges. We hope to continue building on our collaborations, and to help meet their talent requirements.

Sharjah National Oil Corporation

In November 1978, a team of engineers crisscrossing 600,000 acres of Sharjah’s desert pinned down a sweet spot; the Sajaa asset. Their efforts paid dividends. When the Sajaa-1 well was drilled in May 1980 to 16,656 feet – roughly six times the height of the world’s tallest building, the Burj Khalifa – it was one of the largest gas discovery in the UAE at the time. The engineering team worked without today’s technological luxuries – real-time updates from mobile phones and satellites – and navigated their way to success by unrolling dog-eared maps of the desert on the hot bonnets of their four-wheel drive vehicles. This pioneering spirit heralded the beginning of Sharjah’s energy industry.

Fast forward three decades and Sharjah National Oil Corporation (SNOC) was established in 2010 by the Amiri decree of Sharjah’s Ruler His Highness Dr. Sheikh Sultan Bin Mohammed Al Qasimi. Tasked with exploration, production, engineering, construction, operation and maintenance, SNOC was also handed the golden keys to operating and managing the Sajaa assets.

SNOC had access to the other legacy infrastructure pre-2010. Sharjah’s bullish streak after the discovery of the Sajaa asset continued with the discovery of the nearby Moveyeid field in October 1981. Just one year later, the first cargo of 500,000 barrels of condensate was exported from the Sajaa plant on the oil tanker ‘Amoco Savanah’ – the birth of Sharjah’s gas exporting business. Gas sales started in 1983 to Sharjah Electricity and Water Authority (SEWA) and later to Dubai and the Northern Emirates in a new pipeline network. An agreement to build a liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) terminal and export facilities in a new harbour at Hamriyah was signed in 1984, thus laying the foundation for a new Port facility in Sharjah, with it exporting its first load of LPG in 1986.

Two world records followed in 2003. One was for the high efficient recovery of LPG (Propane & Butane liquid) and another for a world-leading coiled tubing underbalance drilling (CTD) campaign, which was managed by BP and the Sharjah Government.

The Hamriyah Port is the only location in the Northern Emirates with existing infrastructure and connectivity capable of sending more than 1 billion standard cubic feet per day (Bscfd) efficiently into the market. All pipelines in the Northern Emirates converge at Sajaa, giving it the ability to transfer this gas to anywhere in the UAE – a valuable convergence of infrastructure in a region that lacks an intra-GCC gas pipeline network. These pipelines are owned and operated by SNOC, SEWA, Emarat, Dana Gas, DUSUP and Dolphin.
