We the undersigned, admitted applicant and parent/guardian, understand that there are a limited number of seats in the second year of undergraduate majors in the College of Architecture, Art, and Design. In these majors, advancement from foundations (first year) to the second year is competitive. Only a portion of admitted students will advance to the second year. Those who do not advance can make use of the courses they pass to pursue a different major at AUS or at another institution. Similarly, students who need or wish to repeat a second-year studio course in the majors of Architecture and Interior Design will also be competing for the limited number of seats in the major using the same advancement criteria.
