

OPPORTUNITIES not to miss.

Study Abroad at AU, in Washington D.C., U.S.A

Deadline for Fall 2011: March 15th

(Must submit applications by Feb 25th for processing)

The Abroad at AU program is open to undergraduate students who plan to study for a year or a semester in the capital of the United States. The program helps create a truly global campus where hundreds of students from diverse cultures and societies interact with American students in the U.S. capital, learning from each other and enriching each others' experiences.

REQUIREMENTS:

3.0 and above GPA (Student in good standing)
Junior I and II, or Senior I (In coming Fall 2011).

Email name,id,major to ixo@aus.edu for more information.

Study Abroad at James Madison University, in Virginia, U.S.A

Deadline for Fall 2011: March 1st (URGENT)

(Must submit applications A.S.A.P)

Superior academics, unparalleled student life, and a campus and faculty committed to preparing you to lead a productive and meaningful life. At Madison, you'll have terminal-degree faculty in your classroom from day one and a one-of-a-kind student success program — all dedicated to helping you find your way to Be the Change!

REQUIREMENTS:

3.0 and above GPA (Student in good standing)
Junior I and II, or Senior I (In coming Fall 2011).

Email name,id,major to ixo@aus.edu for more information.

My name is Padraic Britton McNelis. I was born in Abilene Texas in the USA which is a small town known for oil and cattle. I was raised in Abilene and Dallas Texas before I moved to Las Cruces New Mexico where I live now and attend New Mexico State University. I study history and linguistics. I really love the UAE and I have had nothing but good experiences since I got here a week ago. I enjoy the cities and the campus. This campus is the most beautiful campus I have ever been to and everyone is very friendly.

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania is my hometown but West Virginia is where I go to school. I've been an engineer since day one of college and I've never looked back. Although, settling down in one place for my education just isn't for me; that's why I wanted to travel someplace new for an experience I couldn't get in America. One of my professors taught civil engineering here at AUS for a few years then came back to teach some of my courses. Although it didn't take much convincing he talked me into coming to Sharjah. My first reaction to AUS was just jaw dropping. The campus is beautiful and the people are so friendly, you can start a conversation with anyone you meet. I can't wait to get into my classes and see what else the UAE has to offer.

My name is Daniel Hawk and I am an international exchange student at AUS for the spring semester. My home institution is Miami University (in Ohio), where I am double-majoring in Diplomacy and German. I just recently arrived in the UAE and am excited for what this semester will bring. So far, I've been able to see parts of Sharjah and also the Dubai metropolitan area. I find it fascinating how quickly everything here is developing and am amazed by the unique and global blend of cultures, languages, dress, and customs. I don't think I have ever been in another place where there are so many nationalities present at once! At the same time, I find it very interesting how the UAE is coping with the different forces of modernity (and globalization) and tradition. No matter what, I'm sure this will be a very eye-opening semester!

Study at Munich Business School, Germany

Deadline for Fall 2011: June 15th

2.8+ GPA. Junior I + II or Senior I (in Fall 2011) Contact: ixo@aus.edu

Germany is surrounded by nine countries which automatically gives it an international flair. Students can take advantage of this ideal learning atmosphere while building contacts for their future career. Munich Business School offers a range of courses specifically designed for international students who are planning to study abroad.

Study Abroad at Sciences Po, Paris, France

Deadline for Fall 2011: April 20th

3.0 + GPA. Junior I + II or Senior I (in Fall 2011) Contact: ixo@aus.edu

Exchange students contribute to a dynamic learning environment composed of top-notch professors, researchers, professionals and an accomplished student body. Through the 300 undergraduate courses offered, international and home students together discuss, debate and develop the comparative and methodological skills characteristic of a Sciences Po education.

Are you interested in working and travelling in the USA this summer?

If so, please come to the Information Sessions and Office Hours re: the exciting Work and Travel program. This program is open to ALL AUS students, regardless of class-level, GPA, etc. (note: actually, there is one limitation - students cannot be U.S. Citizens or Residents).

Information Sessions will be held as follows on Wednesday, February 16th:

- 11:00 am to 12 noon in Main Building Lecture Hall A
- 4:00pm to 5:00 pm in Main Building, Lecture Hall A

In between these two information sessions (i.e. from noon to 4 pm), the Work and Travel Representatives will hold Office Hours for advising interested students in the Offices of the International Exchange Programs (IXO), Main Building, Ground Floor, MG43 .