

MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING ENGLISH TO SPEAKERS OF OTHER LANGUAGES (MA TESOL)

Employing a cutting-edge, internationally recognized and accredited curriculum, our MA TESOL program will prepare you to enter the education profession via a high-demand field. The program is distinctive for its small, seminar-style classes and the opportunity for students to engage in supervised teaching practice in real-world classrooms. You will find course offerings that provide the balanced combination of practical and theoretical knowledge needed to teach English at various proficiency levels, and to prepare you for doctoral studies in areas related to language learning and teaching. The program's focus on critical specializations like teaching methodology, language testing and the use of technology in language teaching classrooms ensures that our graduates have the pedagogical background and practical skills to step confidently into the job market.

Reasons for choosing the MA TESOL program:

- Teachers are able to earn a master's degree without interrupting their careers.
- The program serves as in-service training for teachers employed in high schools and language centers.
- Participants have excellent opportunities for career advancement and entry into academia.
- Technology is used extensively, facilitating engaging and dynamic learning.
- Class sizes are small, facilitating highly personalized learning.
- Opportunities are available for students to work with faculty members on their research and collaborate on publications.
- The program is accredited by the Commission for Academic Accreditation of the UAE Ministry of Education's Higher Education Affairs Division.

“I never knew how much I love doing research and how much fun one can possibly have while doing it. While a PhD researcher at the Institute of Education, University of Reading, UK, I studied teachers' reflection for my dissertation, and it became my passion. The topic of reflective practice was first introduced to me in the AUS MA TESOL program.”

Dr. Shahla Yassaei Deputy Director and Management Consultant, Oxborrow Ltd., UK
