Why Choose AUS

Assistantships and work-study opportunities

We offer assistantships and work-study options for graduate students to help them finance their education. All graduate students are encouraged to apply for these opportunities.

Flexible study arrangements

AUS understands that many of its graduate students have competing demands on their time, with busy careers and personal responsibilities. We offer flexible learning options, including part-time study and evening and weekend classes.

Hands-on research opportunities

Our graduate students work in world-class laboratories and beautiful break-out spaces. They also regularly get involved in the research conducted by faculty, many of whom are currently leading cutting-edge research.

A tradition of alumni achievement

Alumni of our graduate programs occupy senior positions in some of the UAE and the world's most well-known organizations. Many have gone on to pursue further studies at prestigious universities, including Oxford, MIT, Cambridge, UC Berkeley or started their own businesses.
