

Master of Science in

FINANCE

BECOME A FINANCIAL LEADER

Increase your specialized financial knowledge, enhance your career prospects or ready yourself for PhD study through the School of Business Administration's (SBA) Master of Science in Finance (MSF) program.

SBA's MSF is designed to meet demand within local and international labor markets for mid- and upper-level professionals equipped with advanced quantitative, analytical and financial risk management training. For ambitious professionals working within financial services, corporate finance, insurance, banking, securities, law or other fields, SBA's MSF is a mark of excellence that will help them expand their career scope and achieve their career aspirations.

Why AUS?

- Flexible timing of classes, catering to busy professionals.
- A wide and varied choice of electives from across SBA's graduate offering.
- Elite industry access including guest lectures from industry leaders and learning tasks undertaken in collaboration with financial institutions.
- Graduate student assistantships and work-study opportunities.

The AUS Master of Science in Finance combines real-world learning with the highest levels of academic knowledge. Graduates of the program will be well placed to excel across a wide range of financial careers.

On completion of the MSF you will:

- meet the highest levels of proficiency in the functional or technical knowledge required for professional finance careers
- address key issues in professional decision making through the application of critical analysis and integration of knowledge relevant to changing environments
- be at the forefront of academic and professional research related to the practice of corporate finance and investment

In the MSF program, you will develop the skills to:

- evaluate risk in investments and devise risk management strategies
- price major financial assets and securities, including in complex environments
- assess and devise alternative financing decisions and strategies, based on advanced analysis and application of research skills
- select appropriate financial modeling and problem-solving techniques to facilitate financial decision making
- analyze advanced financial statements to inform high-level strategic thinking
