

Five points on a sphere.

Submission deadline: October 28th 2026

Given any five distinct points on a sphere, show that there is always a way to slice the sphere into two equal hemispheres such that one of the closed hemispheres contains four out of the five points.